

R66T™ digital publications

Experience authentic local content on location with our community-relevant wifi publications. We pull relevant content via our network into local WiFi hotspots thus greatly enhancing user experience on R66T digital environments. Next time you're on one of our networks, look for the following digital magazines:

Kicks on R66T™

Kicks™ is your guide to life on the digital highway. We've aggregated content from nationally renowned publications such as USA Today in order to provide the on-the-go user with a WiFi experience that matches their digital lifestyle.

When you're on a R66T digital network, look for our WiFi Dashboard. You'll find links to our digital publications which will run full-screen to provide you with a unique digital experience only possible on our advanced hotspot environments.

Look for our mobile app to guide you to your local R66T hotspot and experience Kicks on R66T™. A WiFi digital publication.

You Are Here™

Local is relevant, and “being there” matters. The You Are Here™ digital publication aggregates all local deals, shopping and events into one media application that allows users to experience their communities at a hyper-local level.

Browse through local deals and featured local top 10 eateries. With our R66T mobile app, its easy to choose a deal and take it with you instantly. With our local networks, the You Are Here publication, and our WiFi Apps, its truly good to be here!

Look for the You Are Here™ launch icon on our R66T WiFi Dashboard!

R66T WiFi Dashboard™

R66T hotspots are powered by the UX1 hardware and software power platforms that allow for features never experienced before on WiFi.

Our digital environments allow users to run WiFi-specific applications that greatly enhances your hotspot experience. Our Wifi dashboard allows for:

- Aggregation of hyper-local deals and information via our proprietary search engine
- Increased media speeds via our proprietary compression software. Allowing for a better streaming session.
- Engaging, interactive media, produced by our experienced media professionals in partnership with national media providers
